"We're excited to integrate our tutoring and test preparation services into Lifelong Solutions' online delivery system," said TutorVista president Dr. John Stuppy. "Lifelong's goal of delivering the best quality, most affordable and convenient solutions to make employees life better aligns with our goal of delivering the best online tutoring services to help students around the world achieve their full potential."

Now, any member of Lifelong Solutions who receive resources and unlimited access to medical, financial, legal and other life-coaching resources, will now be able to receive education support through TutorVista ranging from unlimited one-on-one private tutoring in most any subject, to test preparation for the SAT, ACT, GRE, GMAT and hundreds of other tests and state exams. "This partnership – the first of its kind – will add online tutoring and test prep to our offerings, which will benefit thousands of employees and their children immensely," Lifelong Solutions President T. Van Porter said. "Our goal is to help make tutoring accessible at unprecedented levels."
