TUTORVISTA'S SUMMER TUTORING PROGRAMS KEEP KIDS LEARNING DURING DOG DAYS OF SUMMER

San Francisco – June 13, 2006 – Just because school's out for the summer doesn't mean students can't continue studies - or get ready for the next school year. TutorVista (www.TutorVista.com), a personalized online tutoring and test-prep service featuring world class tutors, has launched their Summer Tutoring programs. These online sessions are to keep students engaged via fun, educational activities to prepare them - and their parents - for the upcoming school year.

“Information learned is often lost after a short period of time unless it is reinforced and that holds especially true for students during the summer months,” said Krishnan Ganesh, Chairman and Founder of TutorVista. “Our Summer Tutoring programs focus on maximizing results outside of the classroom and in doing so, provide an invaluable experience during the months students need the most stimulation. Kids can learn right from the comfort of their home because all of the learning is done online!”

TutorVista offers three unique Summer Tutoring programs (<http://www.TutorVista.com/Summer>), in addition to their regular one-on-one personalized tutoring. Students pay only $99.99 a month for unlimited hours of usage where they can get all the summer programs and regular academic tutoring!

Reading-A-Long for Comprehension

Designed to encourage early reading, writing, and reasoning skills, our expert tutors select the best reading material based on the student's reading level and deliver it to your door. Tutors work with stories to build on your child's reading comprehension skills. The program includes initial and ongoing assessments, one-on-one tutoring, and exciting activities based on the books, plus vocabulary lessons, writing assignments and other activities.

Intensive Summer Math Programs

TutorVista's intensive math packages will prepare your child for the challenges of the school year while keeping math stimulating and fun! Detailed assessments determine what the student truly needs to know and one-on-one tutoring sessions, question banks, animations, and illustrations help the student achieve the greatest level of competency in the shortest amount of time.

Special Creative Writing Programs

TutorVista's creative writing sessions offer a variety of approaches to the art of creative writing. Each student will take two pieces of fiction or autobiographical writing from beginning to end from pre-writing to editing and discuss prewriting techniques and outlines, overcoming writer's block, and forward-thinking strategies to revise and strengthen writing.
