

TutorVista Honored by Entrepreneur Magazine and Marico Innovation Foundation

Global Education Company's Affordable, On-Demand Tutoring Service Recognized for Its Achievements in Online Learning

June 15, 2010

BANGALORE, India

TutorVista (www.tutorvista.com), the world's leading online tutoring company, today announced that it has been recognized by Entrepreneur Magazine as one of the "100 Companies to Watch" for 2010. Additionally, TutorVista has been awarded the Marico Innovation Foundation's "Innovation for India" award.

"To date, our unique, interactive online tutoring service has made learning more accessible and effective, having provided over six million sessions in over 30 countries, and we look forward to expanding that number significantly in the coming year."

Entrepreneur Magazine's list of "100 Companies to Watch" recognizes entrepreneurs across the country who are creating relevant, inventive and impactful businesses. TutorVista was included in the publication's Domestic Frontier category as an innovative company that is helping to simplify and assist in day-to-day family life.

Marico's "Innovation for India" award is granted to companies that have achieved breakthrough innovations. TutorVista was granted the Business Innovation award for its use of global resources and technology to connect students and educators around the world.

"Being recognized as one of the '100 Companies to Watch' by Entrepreneur and receiving the prestigious 'Innovation for India' award are both testaments to the validity of TutorVista's business model, and the power of our service offering," said Krishnan Ganesh, Founder and Chairman, TutorVista. "To date, our unique, interactive online tutoring service has made learning more accessible and effective, having provided over six million sessions in over 30 countries, and we look forward to expanding that number significantly in the coming year."

TutorVista is an online global education company that draws on resources from around the world to provide affordable, convenient, on-demand and scheduled education services to K-12 and college students. The service provides affordable, one-on-one 24/7 homework help, skills gap tutoring and online test preparation.

"Tutoring has traditionally been regarded as expensive, inaccessible and inconvenient, and usually pursued only as a last resort after persistent, frustrating problems have occurred," said Krishnan Ganesh. "We built TutorVista to address the chief pain points commonly associated with conventional tutoring, and to make supplemental education services accessible to everyone."

The Entrepreneur "100 Companies to Watch" list appears in the June issue, and is available online at <http://www.entrepreneur.com/magazine/entrepreneur/2010/june/206722.html>.
